

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hardenbergh, of No. 121 West Twenty-third street, gave a reception yesterday afternoon to celebrate the fifth anniversary of their marriage, which took place in New-Brunswick, N. J. Mrs. Hardenbergh was formerly Miss Eddy, a daughter of Thomas E. Eddy, of Providence, R. I. Mr. and Mrs. Hardenbergh were assisted in receiving by their daughters, Mrs. Stewart Jordan, Mrs. William Hardenbergh, Mrs. T. E. Hardenbergh and Mrs. Pulling. The only person at the reception yesterday afternoon who was present at the marriage five years ago was Mrs. Hardenbergh's brother, P. E. Eddy, of Boston. Mrs. Jordan L. Mott, Jr., gave a party for children yesterday afternoon. About thirty of them were amused for an hour by a ventriloquist. There was music by a string orchestra, but no dancing.

Mr. Frederic De Peyster entertained the Tuesday Evening Club at his house, No. 7 East Forty-second street, last night. Among the members of the club present were Miss Elsie Hall, Miss Williamson, Miss Gallatin, Miss Alice Ogden, Miss Elvina Meier, John G. Meier, T. B. Oakley Rhineland, Gordon John, Horace R. Hall, and Mr. T. Mott. There were eight tables, with four persons at each table. For the game of progressive euchre, the prizes for winners were of silver. Next week the club will meet on Tuesday night at the house of Mrs. John T. Hall.

The wedding of Miss Adele McGinnis to Albert Heller will take place on April 5 in St. Thomas's Church, Fifth-avenue, and Fifty-third street. The Rev. Dr. J. Wesley Brown will officiate. Both Miss McGinnis and Mr. Heller are painters of much talent. They were engaged about a year ago. Soon after the wedding the young couple will start for Japan.

GEN. TRACY RESUMES HIS LAW BUSINESS.

HE SAYS THAT A GREAT MISTAKE WILL BE MADE IF HAWAII IS NOT ANNEXED.

Benjamin F. Tracy resumed his law business yesterday with the firm of Tracy, Boardman & Platt, in the Mills Building. General Tracy said yesterday that he intended to start in at once to build up his law practice that he had been forced to give up during his four years of official service at Washington.

The General at present has apartments at the Gilsey House, but he will be there for a few days. He has rented a house at No. 27 West Twenty-third street, where he will have his home during the spring. His daughter, Mrs. Wilmerding, will live with him. The General and his daughter expect to occupy their new home about March 16.

The General was seen at the Gilsey House yesterday by a reporter for The Tribune. His four years of official life has not changed his appearance much, only his hair and beard are much whiter. The General said that he was glad to get back to New-York again, as the metropolis always had great attractions for him. Besides, he was anxious to take up the work of his profession again.

"Do you think the Democratic Congress will repeal the McKinley law?" he was asked. "I don't think they will repeal it," he replied, "but I believe they will modify it. The Democrats will not attempt to carry out all their promises." In speaking of the Hawaiian situation, the General said: "It would be a great mistake to let the islands go. It would be a political crime to do so. The United States must look to its future trade, and now that we are making strides towards building up our merchant marine we should have the Hawaiian group. The islands command the best place in the Pacific, and in order to control the commerce of the Northern Pacific the United States must have absolute control of the islands. The people of the country, I believe, are almost unanimously in favor of annexation, and the question is not a party one. Democrats as well as Republicans are anxious to see annexation take place."

"Do you know of any much significance can be attached to President Cleveland's action in calling for the treaty. It may be that he intends to modify it, or it may mean that he intends to defeat it. Again, it may mean that he intends to take some definite step so that the Senate may act upon the treaty during the extra session of the Upper House. No matter what is done, though, a mistake will be made if the Hawaiian prize is not taken into the fold now that the opportunity presents itself."

SNAPPER LEADERS ARE DAZED.

THE APPOINTMENT OF MAXWELL TO WIELD THE AXE FILLS THEM WITH WOE.

Mr. Cleveland verified the predictions of The Tribune, made with frequency ever since the election, by sending to the Senate yesterday the nomination of ex-Senator Alexander H. Maxwell, of Batavia, one of the most conspicuous anti-Hill and anti-snapper leaders of the State, to the office of Assistant Postmaster-General in charge of the fourth route postoffice. It is the place which reaches the vital of the political machinery of the State. The appointments and removals of these numerous offices are controlled solely by the one man now called the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General. The appointment of Mr. Maxwell, although so often announced, seemed certain, and also like a great shock to the snapper contingent. It was regarded by all shades of politicians as a direct challenge to Senator Hill from the President, for the Senator has no more avowed and determined enemy in the State of New-York. That Mr. Maxwell will use his power to damage the State machine in every way in which he can do so nobody doubts, least of all the Snappers themselves.

The question uppermost in every politician's mind last night was: "Will Mr. Hill accept Mr. Cleveland's challenge and fight Maxwell's confirmation in the Senate?" This is what Mr. Hill's friends said he would do when Mr. Maxwell's name was being published over the country in November, December, January and February as Mr. Cleveland's choice for the place. These threats, however, have not been gaining in strength of late. On the contrary, they have become weaker and fainter as the 4th of March approached.

Lieutenant-Governor William F. Sheehan and Railroad Commissioner Samuel A. Bardsley, of Utica, were among the Snappers who were at the State House last night. All the expressions they made for the public ear were highly commendatory of Mr. Maxwell's selection.

"It's a lovely appointment," said Governor Sheehan, making a painful effort to look pleased. "And didn't you notice that it was sent to the Senate just after Senator Hill's interview with the President? That was significant, surely." A group of snappers surrounding the Lieutenant-Governor assented in chorus to this view and tried to draw some comfort out of it.

"Oh, yes," said ex-Judge Bardsley. "Nothing could have pleased us better. Why, Mr. Maxwell has already asked me whom I want made postmaster in Onondaga County. It's splendid. We're right in the Administration and don't you forget it."

But even such vigorous whistling as this failed to keep up the faltering courage of the "gutter Democrats," as they called themselves in contradistinction from the Mugwump and Anti-Snapper variety. The enthusiasm was going down rapidly when ex-Emigration Commissioner E. L. Ridgway, when ex-Senator Hill's unflinching followers, said in a hoarse voice:

"Boys, let us go and take something." There was a wild rush for the cafe and things were soon looking brighter.

MEETING OF THE PRINCETON CLUB.

The regular March meeting of the Princeton Club of New-York was held at the Hotel Brunswick last evening. About a hundred and fifty Princeton graduates were present. It was decided to form a National association of Princeton Alumni. James W. Alexander and C. F. Imbrie were elected delegates to visit Princeton at commencement and co-operate with delegates from other associations in forming a national organization. The Club Club, which will give their annual concert at Carnegie Music Hall April 14, sang a number of their new songs, and Professor W. B. Scott spoke on Princeton affairs and appealed strongly to the alumni to establish a fund which would be used to defray the expenses of the Princeton Club. The next meeting of the club will be held on the 21st Monday in May.

AN AUCTION SALE OF PAINTINGS.

A sale of a collection of private collection of paintings by old masters was begun last night by order of Messrs. F. Darr, at the New York Auction Rooms, No. 238 Fifth-avenue. Several pictures attributed to Titian, Dürer, P. Daubigny and J. B. C. Corot were withdrawn. "The Beggar Boy," said to be by Veronese, was sold for $225, under no guarantee as to its authenticity. "The Shepherd," by George Jacque, was knocked down at $100.

A QUIET DAY FOR OPERA NEWS.

The situation of affairs in regard to the future of the Metropolitan Opera House remains practically unchanged. There was nothing to be done on the part of the Metropolitan Opera House yesterday. The Metropolitan Opera House was closed yesterday. The Metropolitan Opera House was closed yesterday. The Metropolitan Opera House was closed yesterday.

THE PURIM CHARITY BALL.

HEBREW GIVE A BRILLIANT AFFAIR IN MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.

The feast of Purim was celebrated in a fitting manner last night by the leading Hebrew families of New-York, who gathered in force at the Madison Square Garden for the annual charity ball of the Purim Association, in aid of the United Hebrew Charities. It was the thirty-second annual ball. For years this ball was of a fancy dress character, but for the last few years the gay costumes have given way to the conventional dress of society, and the ball has been conducted after the fashion of the annual charity ball for the Nursery and Child's Hospital.

The amphitheatre last night had new and fresh decorations. The upper balconies were screened off with rich draperies of crimson cloth, the same that was used at the Charity ball of January 3. A decided improvement was made by the addition of white and gold draperies, which contrasted most acceptably with the rather dark background. From the dome depended many streamers of white and yellow which were attached to the supporting columns of the roof. At no other time in the history of the Garden has the floor been so effectively arranged. A hollow square was formed by a series of white pedestals on which rested beautiful palms, thus leaving a wide space for the promenaders and plenty of room for the dancers. A drop curtain cut off about one-third of the floor space, forming a temporary proscenium arch under which was erected a platform which was massed with palms, behind which were stationed two orchestras, Ernest Meyer and C. J. Schwab's, which played alternately for dancing and the promenade.

Dancing began at 11 o'clock, according to the programme. There was neither a grand march nor a formal opening to the ball.

The arena boxes were filled with the wealth and beauty of the Hebrew residents of New-York, and were held as follows: David Aaron, 13; N. Bijur, 11; A. Barnett, 17; Mrs. D. W. Buckner, 8; Mrs. C. Blum, 26; Adolph Bernheimer, 33; Albert Blumenthal, 24; N. Cowen, 44; Jacob A. Cantor, 6; Moritz Cohn, 4; S. J. Gans, 47; M. Guggenheim, 40; Abe Herrman, 23; I. H. Horis, 30; Moses Herrman, 2; M. S. Kohn, 12; Mrs. S. Kohn, 18; Solomon Kohn, 25; Joseph Kohn, 47; George A. Koeber, 19; C. Kohn, 10; Joseph Lieberman, 21; Solomon Loh, 54; R. Limburger, 39; E. Lehman, 42; M. H. Moses, 33; Lewis May, 43; G. Mannheim, 27; Christopher Minzeshimer, 28; Max Moses, 7; Max Nathan, 33; Henry Newman, 41; Isaac Rosenwald, 30; S. Rothschild, 31; Henry Rice, 35; Simon Raitzinger, 39; Simon Schuler, 20; A. L. Sanger, 10; I. Steinhardt, 20; Jesse Seldman, 37; Jay H. Solomon, 40; Philip Stiner, 32; Solomon B. Solomon, 14; Louis Stern, 32; I. Worman, 22; S. Untermyer, 43.

An excellent supper was served in a pleasant room in the restaurant at the Twenty-eighth corner of the building by Carl Berger, who had also the Hungarian band, with Hayoth Niska as leader, to play during the evening. The committees were divided as follows:

Floor—M. H. Moses, chairman; Simon Schuler, Max Herzog, S. J. Gans, R. Limburger, G. A. Cohen, C. J. Kohn, W. J. Skyles, T. Rosenwald, M. C. Newman, Samuel Stern, E. Dinkelspiel, M. L. Hornthal, J.
